ANOTHER BASEBALL TOUR IS PLANNED

Chicago, Ill., March 13.—The baseball players who accompanied the New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox on their tour of the world, probably will make another foreign invasion at the conclusion of the coming baseball season, according to an announcement today by Ted Sullivan, who managed the world tour just ended.

Plans under consideration provide for a short trip to Europe to give baseball exhibitions in cities which rain prevented games during the recent tour. The cities where games may be played are Paris, Berlin, Dublin and Glasgow. Sullivan said he probably will go to Europe in June to close dates for the games. Under present plans the Giant-White Sox teams will sail from New York about October 15 and will return to the United States about a month later. Two games will be played in each city.

After the European trip, Sullivan and John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, plan to take the players to South America for a series of exhibition games. The return from this trip will be made through the Panama canal and the final games will be played in California. Tentative arrangements for the trip already are being made, it was announced.

DUELLING IN ARMY DEFENDED

German General Considers Institution Is Necessary for the Military Case.

Berlin, March 13.—Duelling among officers in the German army was strongly defended today by Lieutenant General Erich von Falkenhayn, minister for war, in replying to a question regarding the fatal duel at Metz on February 26, when Lieutenant Haage was killed. The minister for war said the institution of duelling was a necessity for the military caste. He made it clear that his efforts to diminish duelling in the army were directed, not against the duel, but toward the restricting of the number of cases in which an encounter was regarded as imperative.

"I personally would consider it a misfortune," he said, "if the conception of personal honor on which the practice of duelling is based, should be eradicated. I admit that duelling is an offense under the laws, both of god and of man, and, is an evidence of physical rather than of moral courage. Moreover, the penalty is liable to fall on the wronged man. Nevertheless, an officer must be the defender of his own honor and is entitled to regain his self-esteem, to vindicate his manhood and to repel the imputation of lack of courage by facing his adversary, pistol in hand."

Duelling, according to the minister, is decreasing in Germany. "There were only twelve duels in 1913," he said, "among the 75,000 active and reserve officers in the German army but this rate is still too high. The fatal duel at Metz could have been avoided if Lieutenant Haage had waited until the court of honor had considered the case, but the officer had felt deeply insulted and refused to do so, with the result that he was killed."

BIG BUSINESS WILL CONTINUE

Westinghouse Will Provide Trusteeship for Direction of Many Large Industries.

VOTING POWER GIVEN

Personal Wealth and Holdings of Famous Inventor Estimated at $50,000,000.

New York, March 13.—George Westinghouse, the famous engineer and inventor who died here yesterday of heart disease, provided in his will for the continuation of his large business interests under a trusteeship.

It was stated officially today that his estate will not cause any change of policy or operation in connection with any of the Westinghouse industries. A plan which long ago he carefully thought out for their continuance and direction goes immediately into effect.

The men chosen to carry out this work are his brother, Henry Herman Westinghouse, who is president of the American Brake company, and vice president and general manager of the Westinghouse Air Brake company; Charles A. Terry, vice president of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, and W. D. Updegraff, director of the Westinghouse Air Brake company.

To this trusteeship will go the voting power in all the corporations in which George Westinghouse was interested here and abroad. The individual wealth and holdings of Mr. Westinghouse have been estimated at more than $50,000,000.

Funeral Service Sunday.
Mr. Westinghouse, who was in his sixty-eighth year, will be buried Sunday in Woodland cemetery, this city.

Mr. Westinghouse became an inventor at the age of 15, when he produced a rotary engine. Four years later he constructed a device for replacing derailed steam cars. Then, when 21 years of age, he sought the financial backing of the late Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt for his famous air brake, perfected after three years of labor.

"Do you mean to tell me you can stop a railroad train by wind," demanded the commodore.

"Well yes, in as much as air is wind I suppose you are right," spoke the youth.

"I have no time to waste on fools," said the commodore, thus abruptly terminating the interview.

Westinghouse sought and found capital elsewhere, manufactured his invention and made high speed possible on railroads, revolutionizing traffic systems and inaugurating a notable era of railway development.

Many Electrical Devices.
Mr. Westinghouse did not confine his genius to railroading. For half a century he continued to make other contributions to electrical as well as engineering advancement. His inventions and improvements had to do with railway signaling; the development of the alternating current system for electric lighting and power devices for safety and for economically conveying natural gas over long distances and using it for industrial and domestic fuel; air springs for motor vehicles; and a geared turbine system for the propulsion of ships, developed in collaboration with the late Admiral George W. Melville, U. S. N., and John H. MacAlpine.

Distinguished Honors Conferred.
In return for his many achievements, the highest honors in the gift of the technical societies and institutions of Europe and America were bestowed upon him. European sovereigns conferring distinguished orders. As recently as last December he received from the principal engineering society of Germany the celebrated Grashof gold medal.

Mr. Westinghouse founded many manufacturing companies in this country and abroad. In these plants some fifty thousand persons are employed, and the many companies have a capitalization aggregating $200,000,000.

Mr. Westinghouse's mental alertness and activity remained to the last unimpaired. The final few years of life were among the most productive. For several months, he had, however, limited his activities, placing greater responsibilities on his associates.

Born in Schenectady.
George Westinghouse was born in Central Bridge, near Schenectady, N. Y., October 6, 1848 and as a lad attended school in Schenectady. He entered Union college but left in 1863 to join the Twenty-sixth United States cavalry and served in the Civil war. His love for engineering led to his transfer to the navy and before being in service a year he was attached to the Potomac flotilla, acting as third assistant engineer.

In August 1867, he married Margaret Erskine Walker, who survives him, together with one child.
